Commercial Diving Equipment

Our Pedigree

Aqua Lung first introduced the world to modern-day diving more than 60 years ago when Jacques-Yves Cousteau and Emile Gagnan jointly developed the first "Aqua Lung". We are justly proud of this diving heritage and today Aqua Lung is part of the same business family which started it all back in 1947. Our core expertise is life support systems for divers and aviators and the Aqua Lung Group has a wealth of knowledge in development and provision of equipment for Military & Professional diving.

Our Structure

The Aqua Lung Group is a highly successful subsidiary of Air Liquide, the worldwide leader in industrial and medical gas products, which provides strong technical and financial backing. We are a global organization, made up of several companies, and our facilities in North America and Europe have unique capabilities in design, manufacturing, supply and engineering support. Group activities are led by our two main operating companies, Aqua Lung America (formerly U.S. Divers) and Aqua Lung France (formerly La Spirotechnique). All companies in the Aqua Lung family have a dedicated Military & Professional team with unsurpassed technical and practical diving backgrounds.

Our Diving Equipment

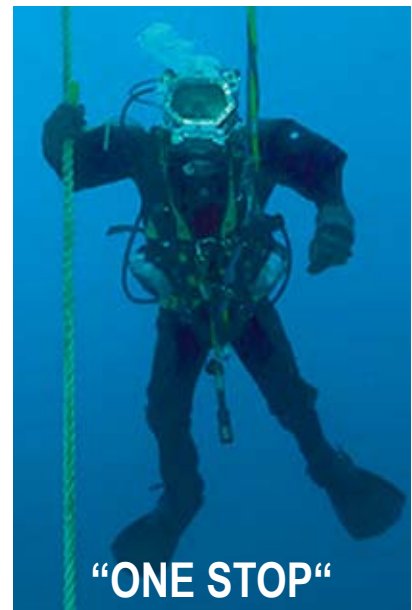

Aqua Lung diving equipment is used worldwide by military and professional divers, including the commercial diving industry, and has a well-deserved reputation for reliability, performance and robustness. Breathing system products, such as Apeks regulators, provide field-proven capability and performance. Whites dry suits utilize similar high performance dry suit technology while our most recent acquisition, Gorski, adds the respected Gorski Helmet to the Aqua Lung product range. We also have an active product development program. All this is intended to meet the needs of the global commercial diving industry for Surface-Supplied and SCUBA diving operations, both offshore and inland/onshore.

Our Goal

We are committed to providing robust, reliable and high performance equipment to all parts of the professional diving community. Our clear goal is to be the premier "One Stop" provider to the commercial diving industry.

Aqua Lung products are available from leading diving equipment suppliers in the U.S.
